

NY COMEDY FESTIVAL

November 4-10
Various Venues
Tickets: $27.50+

Stephen Colbert will be at Carnegie Hall, Demetri Martin at the Beacon Theatre, Trevor Noah at Madison Square Garden and Jenny Slate at Town Hall during the week-long laugh fest; some 200 other comedians will also be gigging throughout the city at venues large and small.

THE OTHER ART FAIR

November 7-10
Brooklyn Expo Center
Tickets: $13.50-$30

Works from 130 emerging artists worldwide—each of whom was selected by a committee of curators, gallerists and other experts—will be on display and for sale. It is an ideal opportunity to purchase an original (and affordable) work from an artist who just might become an art-world star in the near future.

Credit: westandease.com

RENEGADE CRAFT FAIR

November 9 & 10
Metropolitan Pavilion
125 West 18th Street, Free

Just in time to find the perfect holiday gift for that impossible-to-shop-for friend or relative: Over 230 artists and artisans will be selling everything from one-of-a-kind clothing to organic skincare to handcrafted tableware and tapestries. Live DJs and seasonal cocktails will enhance the experience.

Credit: Frank Stewart

BIG BAND HOLIDAYS

December 18-22
Rose Theater, 10 Columbus Circle
Tickets: $40-$135

In what has become a 21st century tradition, holiday classics such as “Jingle Bells” and “Joy to the World” get a swinging refresh courtesy of the Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra with Wynton Marsalis, along with guest vocalists Denzal Sinclair and Alexis Morrast, a recent Showtime at the Apollo winner.